Testimonials

Peter Jones (The Australian) From the greeting to the farewell, if you want to maximise your experience at the US Masters in a structured but flexible way then you can't go past the Richard Mercer Tour.

His decade and a half of taking intimate groups to The Masters is evident in every respect from quality accommodation, excellent location, contacts, through to when and how to get the best from every day at The Masters made it a very special experience, one that all of our group will never forget.

It is a fantastic 10 days of golf, inclusive of unlimited access to Richard, an outstanding golf professional and communicator regarding the golf swing, who improved everyone's golf game whilst enjoying the region's golf courses.

You can't understate the benefit of a smaller tour group in terms of the golf lessons, through to the ease of just getting around and doing things in a busy town over Masters week.

I have waited many years to attend The Masters and am so pleased I selected Richard Mercer.

Unforgettable!

Simon Truskett (Pymble Golf Club): I ticked off my bucket list item this year on the Richard Mercer Golf tour at the 2016 US Masters. We laughed until we cried every day; we played some wonderful golf courses; had Richard's excellent tuition on the courses; we stayed at superb places in Lake Oconee and then at a large home in West Lake at Augusta; we ate wonderful home cooked meals; and then attended all 5 days at Augusta National. What an unbelievable experience.

Every golfer should attend the US Masters at some stage in their life, and there is no better way to do it than with Richard Mercer. Cheers, Simon

Paul Hennessy (The Vintage): I have been fortunate enough to participate in two golf vacations organized by Richard Mercer. I have been to the US Masters in 2008 and The Players Championship in 2013 with my son and wife and so I feel quite qualified to recommend Richard as both a guide and companion on such a trip.

On each occasion Richard supplied a quality experience. We stayed in premium accommodation, played golf on some famous and spectacular golf courses and viewed the very best of golfers playing golf at the highest level. All of Richard's organization was detailed and particular and so made each trip run very smoothly with no fuss as everything was taken care of and obviously well planned. I even got to meet and have a drink with Arnold Palmer!

On each trip Richard not only was the organizer, chauffeur and guide but he also shared his vast knowledge and skills as a golf instructor. He provided each of us with both formal and informal golf lessons before and during the playing components of the trip so that all of us came home better golfers than when we left – what a bonus to a golf holiday!

On each trip our experience was made even better by Richard's personal qualities. Not only does he pay attention to detail but all the while he displays a wonderful sense of humour, concern for others, camaraderie and inclusiveness. We always felt that we being treated as friends rather than mere clients!

I would have absolutely no hesitation in recommending Richard Mercer to anyone interested in a golf holiday that is well run, fun filled and guaranteed to improve your golf at the same time!
